St. Louis Business Journal

Brown Smith Wallace's Brad Pursel was appointed to the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants' Fair Value Resource Panel, the accounting firm said Thursday.

Pursel is a principal in Brown Smith Wallace's financial advisory services practice.

The Fair Value Resource Panel was formed to help clarify information from the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) regarding fair value measurements in financial reporting, according to a release. The Fair Value Resource Panel will serve to develop detailed guidance on specific topics related to any broad guidelines issued by the FASB.

Brown Smith Wallace is an independent full-service CPA and business consulting firm in Missouri with more than 170 employees throughout the Midwest.
