Women's Initiative

In 2014, Brown Smith Wallace launched a firm women’s initiative. There are internal and external aspects of the program.

Internally, we have quarterly professional development sessions for women in management. Our professionals take turns leading discussions and educational sessions on the challenges women face in today’s workplace. The presentations are voluntary and rotate among the participants.

The external program is The Bridge: Connecting Women Leaders of Today and Tomorrow. We host events for women of all career stages for networking, fun and professional development. To learn more about The Bridge, including past presentation topics, click here.
